On September 23, 1970, Billie Jean King, joined by Rosemary Casals, Nancy Richey, Kerry Melville, Peaches Bartkowicz, Kristy Pigeon, Judy Dalton, Valerie Ziegenfuss and Julie Heldman, decided to participate in the inaugural $7,500 Virginia Slims of Houston event.

Billie Jean King and her group of eight other renegades were revolutionary by 1970s standards. A full two years ahead of the passage of Title IX in the United States, they envisioned a better future for women's tennis. In September 1970, the birth of women's professional tennis was launched when nine players signed $1 contracts with World Tennis publisher Gladys Heldman to compete in a new women's tour, the Virginia Slims Series. The Original 9, as they were called, included Billie Jean King, Rosie Casals, Nancy Richey, Kerry Melville, Peaches Bartkowicz, Kristy Pigeon, Judy Dalton, Valerie Ziegenfuss and Julie Heldman.

Heldman, along with her friend Joe Cullman from Philip Morris and several others, provided women's professional tennis the opportunity the Original 9 and so many others sought. The inaugural $7,500 Virginia Slims of Houston was established on September 23, 1970 and it was the event that became the groundbreaker for all others.

- 1971 – The Virginia Slims Series debuted with 19 tournaments, with a total purse of $309,100 on offer in the United States and Billie Jean King became the first female athlete to cross the six-figure mark in season earnings.
- 1973 – Billie Jean King founded the Women's Tennis Association, uniting all of women's professional tennis in one tour. The WTA was borne out of a meeting held in a room at the Gloucester Hotel in London the week before Wimbledon; the US Open, for the first time, offered equal prize money to the men and women.
- 1974 – The WTA signed the first television broadcast contract in the history of the Association (with CBS).
- 1975 – The Virginia Slims Series was streamlined to an 11-week Tour of the US, concluding at the end of March.
- 1976 – Colgate assumed sponsorship of the Tour events from April to November for four years; at the Palm Springs event, Chris Evert became the first female athlete to cross $1 million in career earnings.

- 1977 – New York hosted the Virginia Slims Championships for the first time.
- 1979 – Avon, replacing Virginia Slims as winter circuit sponsor, offered a record $100,000 to the winner of the Avon Circuit Championship.
- 1980 – By now more than 250 women were playing professionally all over the world in a Tour consisting of 47 global events, offering a total $7.2 million in prize money.
- 1982 – Navratilova became the first woman to earn over $1 million in a season.
- 1983 – Virginia Slims returned, replacing Avon and Toyota, who replaced Colgate in 1981, to sponsor the first unified Circuit of more than $10 million.
- 1984 – Navratilova received a $1-million bonus from the ITF for winning Roland Garros and thus holding all four Grand Slam singles crowns at the same time, having won Wimbledon and the US and Australian Opens in 1983; Navratilova crossed the $2-million mark in season earnings, more than men's No.1 John McEnroe; the Australian Open joined the US Open in offering the women's event equal prize money (temporarily did not between 1996-2000).
- 1986 – Navratilova passed $10 million in career earnings by winning the US Indoors.
- 1988 – Graf became the second woman in the Open Era to complete a calendar year Grand Slam, and made it a 'Golden Grand Slam' by winning the Olympic title in Seoul.
- 1990 – Another Philip Morris company, Kraft General Foods, replaced Virginia Slims after 15 years of loyal sponsorship; the Tour's prize purse increased to $23 million and concluded the season at Madison Square Garden, in New York, with the first-ever $1-million tournament in women's sports; Navratilova won a record ninth Wimbledon singles title.
- 1991 – Monica Seles became only the second player to pass the $2-million mark in season earnings and would better men's leader Stefan Edberg in '91 and '92.

- 1995 – The WTA Players Association merged with the Women's Tennis Council to form the WTA Tour, and after Monica Seles' inspiring return to the sport in the summer, the Corel software corporation came on as title sponsor at the end of the year; prize money of the season-ending Championships doubled to $2 million.
- 1997 – On March 30, Hingis became the fastest player ever to win $1 million in a season and a day later became the youngest-ever world No. 1, ending Graf's record reign (for men and women) of 377 total weeks.
- 1998 – By winning Leipzig, Graf eclipsed Navratilova's all-time prize money record.
- 1999 – After 17 years, Graf retired from the Tour with 22 Grand Slam singles titles and a record $21,895,277 in career earnings.
- 2000 – Sanex bodycare products came on board as the Tour's title sponsor for three years; after 22 consecutive years, Madison Square Garden hosted its last season-ending Championships
- 2001 – The Australian Open returned to equal prize money and overall Tour prize money increased to $50 million in 63 events, including the first-ever Middle Eastern Tour events in Doha, Qatar and Dubai, UAE; Munich hosted the season-ending Championships; Jennifer Capriati capped a fairytale return to the sport by winning her first two career Grand Slam titles and rising to No. 1 in October.
- 2002 – The Williams sisters fulfilled their father's prophecy by becoming the No.1 players in the world, first Venus in February, then Serena in July. Serena won three majors, defeating her older sister in each final; Los Angeles hosted the season-ending Championships for the first time since 1976.
- 2003 – The "Get In Touch With Your Feminine Side" marketing campaign was launched, at the time it was the Tour's most significant branding effort in its history. Serena Williams won the Australian Open to complete the "Serena Slam" while Kim Clijsters became the first female athlete to earn $4 million in season earnings.
- 2004 – Dubai Duty Free became Presenting Sponsor of the Middle East/Asia-Pacific region, while Whirlpool came on board as European Premier Sponsor; the season will be remembered as the year of the Russian emergence, with Anastasia Myskina, Maria Sharapova and Svetlana Kuznetsova claiming their nation's first Grand Slam singles titles.
- 2005 – Sony Ericsson became the Tour's worldwide title sponsor in a landmark $88-million, six-year deal, the largest and most comprehensive sponsorship in the history of tennis and of women's professional sport; as winner of the US Open Series, Kim Clijsters earns double prize money for winning the US Open; her $2.2 million prize cheque was the single biggest payday in women's sports and in any official tennis event, men's or women's.
- 2006 – Worldwide title sponsor Sony Ericsson unveiled several game-changing innovations designed to make the sport more fan-friendly and interactive (such as electronic line-calling and on-court coaching); partnerships with USANA Health Sciences and Traveler were announced, along with the extension of the Tour's partnership with Eurosport/Regency into 2011, becoming the largest TV deal in the history of women's tennis; European Premier Sponsor Whirlpool extended its agreement for three years; Martina Navratilova ended her 32-year career in which she amassed more titles than any other female or male player; a global partnership with UNESCO was announced to advance gender equality and promote women's leadership in society.
- 2007 – The Board of Directors approved the Roadmap circuit reform, the most sweeping changes in WTA history which will include a shorter season, fan-friendly structure and 40 percent increase in Tour prize money (from 2009); the historic achievement of equal prize money at Roland Garros and Wimbledon meant that following a 30-year campaign that began with Billie Jean King, all four majors offered parity for the first time; after two successful years in Madrid, the Tour announced the season-ending Sony Ericsson Championships would move to Doha, Qatar for 2008-2010 and to Istanbul, Turkey from 2011-13; Justine Henin became the first woman to earn $5 million in a single season.
- 2008 – Celebrating its 35th anniversary, the Tour unveiled the largest advertising campaign in its history, with the Looking For A Hero? campaign launched on the eve of Wimbledon. Around the same time, the Tour's Asia-Pacific headquarters opened in Beijing, China, complementing existing offices in St Petersburg, Florida and London, England. Dubai Duty Free announced an extension of its Tour sponsorship through 2011, while Justine Henin became the first player to retire while ranked No.1 in the world, saying goodbye to professional tennis at the age of 25. A record five different women held the No.1 ranking during the season (Henin, Sharapova, Ivanovic, Jankovic, S.Williams), while Doha, Qatar made a successful debut as host of the season-ending Sony Ericsson Championships.
- 2009 – Off the court, Stacey Allaster succeeded Larry Scott as chairman and CEO of the WTA, while on court the historic Roadmap circuit reforms became a reality. Serena Williams secured the year-end No.1 during the WTA Championships, where she became the first player in history to earn more than $6million in prize money in a single season. Caroline Wozniacki reached a Tour-leading eight finals, winning three of them. The 53 titles were won by 34 different players, producing 13 first-time champions and proving the depth of women's tennis. Kim Clijsters stormed out of retirement and won the US Open in only her third tournament back.
- 2010 – The WTA celebrated the 40th anniversary of women's professional tennis, marking four decades of unprecedented growth and an increase in annual prize money from $309,100 to $85 million. Serena Williams collected two more Grand Slam titles but it was Caroline Wozniacki who secured the year-end No.1 ranking after picking up six titles. Kim Clijsters was crowned champion at the WTA Championships – Doha after picking up her third, and second consecutive, US Open singles crown. Justine Henin made a comeback from retirement and soared to No.12, while Francesca Schiavone became the first Italian to win a Grand Slam title with victory at Roland Garros. Sony Ericsson renewed their sponsorship with a 2-year extension, while new sponsorship deals were signed with Oriflame, as official cosmetics partner, and Peak, as tennis apparel provider in Asia-Pacific.
- 2011 – Kim Clijsters began the season by winning her fourth Grand Slam title at the Australian Open, which was followed by three first-time Grand Slam champions: Li Na became the first player from Asia to win a Grand Slam singles title at Roland Garros; Petra Kvitova broke through at Wimbledon, one of her six titles during the season; and Samantha Stosur dominated at the US Open, defeating Serena Williams in the final. For the first time in WTA history, 10 different nations were represented in the world's Top 10 rankings. The TEB BNP Paribas WTA Championships made a successful debut in Istanbul, Turkey, with more than 70,000 fans in attendance. Off court, the WTA launched its global advertising campaign "Strong is Beautiful", featuring 40 players, which will be unveiled in more than 80 markets by the end of 2012. BNP Paribas and its Turkish partner TEB signed on as the title sponsor of the Championships, and Rolex became the official timekeeper of the prestigious season-ending event. Jetstar was announced as the WTA's official airline partner in Asia-Pacific, while sponsorship renewals were secured with European cosmetics brand Oriflame, and global vitamin and health supplement manufacturer USANA. The Board of Directors extended Stacey Allaster's CEO contract through 2017, which will see her become the second-longest serving CEO in WTA history.

A consummate tennis professional recently named by Forbes magazine as one of the “Most Powerful Women in Sports,” Stacey Allaster has held virtually every position imaginable in the world of tennis: from a junior to a collegiate player; to Tournament Director in Toronto; to a VP of Tennis Canada; to President of the WTA and now she serves as Chairman and CEO of the world’s leading professional sport for women, the WTA.

Allaster’s tenure as Chairman and CEO began in July 2009 and has been marked by her focus on maximizing the fan experience through a series of on-court and digital innovations; securing a record number of new sponsors; ensuring the financial success of the sport; and enhancing the health and well-being of the athletes.

With a focus on fan enjoyment and athlete health, Allaster played an integral role in the development and adoption of the Roadmap, the WTA’s long term strategic plan aimed at streamlining the calendar in order to enhance the overall health and well-being of the athletes and deliver top players on a more consistent basis to tournaments and fans. She also spearheaded such innovative programs as on-court coaching, electronic line calling, and a revised doubles scoring format, all aimed at enhancing the fan experience and taking women’s tennis to new heights.

In her first year as CEO, Allaster delivered a series of financial successes as she secured global sponsorships for the WTA, including the extension of the landmark partnership with Sony Ericsson, the renewal of many existing partnerships, and the signing of five new sponsors around the globe.

An advocate for women, Allaster was instrumental as the then-President of the WTA in securing equal prize money for women tennis players at all four Grand Slams, which was finally completed in 2007 when Wimbledon and Roland Garros committed to offering equal pay to male and female athletes.

Allaster holds a Bachelor’s degree in Economics and Physical Education from the University of Western Ontario, and an MBA from the Ivey School of Business. The mother to children Jack and Alexandra, Allaster and husband John Milkovich reside in St. Petersburg, Florida.

2011 has been a fantastic year for women's tennis. We've seen Maria Sharapova's heroic climb back to the top, Caroline Wozniacki's amazing determination to hang on to the number 1 spot amidst some serious competition and of course Li Na's historic Grand Slam victory at Roland Garros.

This has been a milestone year for our partnership with the WTA as we've taken our sponsorship to a whole new level with the introduction of Xperia™ Hot Shots an online show that brought the worlds of tennis and entertainment together. The show was delivered through our social media platforms, allowing us to engage with existing tennis fans in a new and exciting way, whilst also opening women's tennis up to a wider audience. You can follow the show here, at www.facebook.com/xperiahotshots

As we look to 2012 and the role our partnership with the WTA will play, we can't help but feel excited. The fans will be granted greater access to their favourite players, latest scores and up to date real time news through the new WTA web page and mobile site.

With this continued progression, there is no doubt that 2012 will be one of the most hotly contested seasons to date both on and off the court. Good luck to all the players.

WTA PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Player Development is the WTA's education and resource center, outreaching to WTA players and their support teams. Player Development programs promote and enhance players' career fulfillment, safety and well-being. "How", you might ask? Players access WTA services and gain concrete skills to maximize their performance and mitigate the known environmental stressors.

Player Development programs are scientifically proven to keep female tennis players in and at the top of their game.

MENTOR PROGRAM- PARTNERS FOR SUCCESS

The 1st mentor program in professional sports, Partners For Success brings together young players with veteran and retired players who share their dynamic experience to help these protégées make a smooth transition into their careers. Billie Jean King, the program's historian, exemplifies the role of a mentor.

PLAYER ORIENTATION- ROOKIE HOURS

Players learn the on-site realities and responsibilities of being a participant on the WTA. The orientation helps the players understand the building blocks of the business and her responsibilities and opportunities.

MEDIA TRAINING

Players learn how to be prepared, professional and expressive in public speaking opportunities.

PLANNINGZONE & SCHEDULEZONE

ScheduleZone is an interactive, online tool that players and their support teams use to optimize performance and career longevity, and minimize the risks of injury. Players plan their upcoming tournament season taking critical factors into account as they receive feedback specific to their age, ranking, and individualized scheduling decisions. ScheduleZone is supported with other tennis-specific lessons on preparation, performance and recovery.

PLAYER SUPPORT TEAM

Parents, coaches, agents, and fitness trainers are an integral part of each player's career. The WTA is committed to providing information to these support team members, ranging from what players will encounter in the professional arena to the rules and expectations that govern all parties in the environment, including adherence to the Code of Conduct and, for credentialed coaches, possession of a qualified coaching certification.

AGE ELIGIBILITY

The Age Eligibility Rule progressively allows players to play more and at a higher level by phasing them into professional tennis in accordance with their age, their ranking and the skills gained from participation in player development. Questions can be referred to Sarka Vitkova at svitkova@wtatennis.com or by referencing the 2012 WTA Rulebook.

TRANSITIONS

Transitions is the culmination of the player journey and provides sophisticated education, training and career guidance to maximize opportunities, in business and in life, during the tennis career and after. Current and alumnae players have access to a range of programs, including: financial planning and investing; gaining coaching certifications; networking and alumnae reunions; and public speaking /business presentations.

PLAYER DEVELOPMENT - HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE

As part of the WTA's overall committed approach to the well-being and success of its players, Player Development programs have been offered since 1995 to facilitate skill development, promote career fulfillment and longevity, and minimize the physical, psychological and developmental risks of competing in women's professional tennis. In 2004, the WTA marked the ten year anniversary of these model programs by conducting an extensive review, guided by the Player Development Advisory Panel. The panel is an independent, volunteer body of leading international sports sciences and medicine professionals with extensive experience with female professional athletes and tennis players. The panel is commissioned annually to advise the WTA on all aspects of its athlete growth and development programs.

SUMMARY OF REVIEW FINDINGS

Since their implementation in 1995, the WTA's innovative Player Development programs have been proven successful at addressing the athletes' top stress and performance-related factors, reducing burn-out and increasing career longevity. Specific statistics include:

- Premature retirements (prior to age 22) dropped from 7% to less than 1%.
- Playing careers are lasting 24% longer and a WTA player was 73% more likely to enjoy a 15-year career in 2004 compared with 1994.
- 1994 athlete stressors such as media, loneliness and family are no longer at the top of the list. Performance-based stressors, including injuries, expectations and competition are of increased concern and while common in pro sports, are importantly addressed through Roadmap and other WTA programs.
- Players and the tennis community overwhelmingly (90% overall) support the need for Player Development programs.

PANEL CONCLUSIONS

- The programs and rules have greatly reduced burnout while fostering the health, development and long-term success of young athletes.
- The WTA's Player Development is cutting edge and recognized as a model within the sports community in its approach to helping athletes anticipate and manage the physical and psychological demands of full-time professional tennis.
- Early exposure to the programs is creating a new generation of athlete who can mitigate the sport's external factors (family, media, etc.) to focus more on important performance factors (expectations, injuries, etc.) that maximize career potential.

2012 AGE ELIGIBILITY RULE (AER) HIGHLIGHTS:

A 14-year-old may play up to 8 ITF Women's Circuit events plus Fed Cup. A 14-year old may accept up to one Wild Card into a WTA International tournament if she is enrolled and current in Player Development.

A 15-year-old may play up to 10 professional events (WTA & ITF Women's Circuit), WTA Championships (if she qualifies), plus Fed Cup.

A 16-year-old may play up to 12 professional events (WTA & ITF Women's Circuit), WTA Championships (if she qualifies), plus Fed Cup.

A 17-year-old may play up to 16 professional events (WTA & ITF Women's Circuit), WTA Championships (if she qualifies), plus Fed Cup. In the WTA Year of her 17th birthday a player may be named to the Top 10 and/or Premier Player Lists.

Merited Increases: A player aged 15-17 is allowed up to four (4) merited increases per birth year (i.e., birthday to birthday). Merited increases are in addition to a player's allotted number of Tournaments under the AER, and may be earned as follows:

- WTA Premier Mandatory (PM)/Grand Slam (GS) eligibility: A player must be a direct ranking acceptance into the Main Draw or Qualifying of PM/GS events. Players may include up to two (2) Grand Slam events in their total number of four (4) merited increases. However, if a player accepts a Wild Card into a PM or GS event rather than entering through direct ranking acceptance, the tournament shall be included into her total allotment of Tournaments under the AER rather than as a merited increase.
- Pro Path (new for 2012): A player who is a 2011 Year-end Top 5 ITF Junior and/or has reached the singles final of a Junior Grand Slam tournament in 2011 and/or 2012 may earn up to two merited increases at age 15 and up to three merited increases at ages 16 and 17.
- If a player is eligible under both the WTA Premier Mandatory/Grand Slam and the Pro Path, she may combine opportunities to reach the maximum of four (4) merited increases per birth year. WTA Premier Mandatory/Grand Slam and Pro Path merited increases can be used when a player and her support team have completed all related Player Development requirements to-date. However, if a player has not completed her Player Development requirements prior to taking the merited increase, then participation in what would otherwise be a merited increase event is counted against her total allotment of Tournaments under the AER.

An 18-year-old may play an unlimited number of professional tournaments, Fed Cup and the WTA Championships. The player will remain a full participant in Player Development until notified of graduation.

Mandatory Play: All players, regardless of age, who by ranking (including Special Rankings) qualify for acceptance into the Main Draw of a Premier Mandatory Tournament (Indian Wells, Miami, Madrid, Beijing) or the Main Draw of a Grand Slam will be entered automatically. A player who has reached her maximum number of professional tournaments under the Age Eligibility Rule prior to such mandatory Tournaments will not be allowed to play in the Mandatory Tournament and will be assessed a fine and/or receive zero ranking points unless she meets the requirements for it to count in addition to her allotted number of Tournaments.

Olympics: A player is eligible to play in the 2012 Olympics if she has reached the age of 15 by July 28, 2012, which is the opening day of the 2012 Olympic Tennis Event. Participation in the Olympics is not counted against the number of professional events permitted under the AER.

This serves only as a brief view of the Age Eligibility Rule. Refer to the complete version of the Age Eligibility Rule in the 2012 WTA Rulebook for details.

As the world governing body of tennis, the International Tennis Federation (ITF) is responsible for every level of the sport including the regulation of rules and the future development of the game. Based in London, the ITF currently has 210 member nations and six regional associations, which administer the game in their respective areas, in close consultation with the ITF.

The ITF is committed to promoting tennis around the world and encouraging as many people as possible to play the game. An estimated 60 million people enjoy playing tennis in more than 200 countries worldwide, making tennis one of the few truly global sports. The breadth of appeal is appropriately reflected in the ITF's active involvement in a range of circuits including lower level professional events, junior tennis, seniors tennis, wheelchair tennis and beach tennis. Dedicated websites for each of these circuits can be found at www.itftennis.com.

During 2011, 505 ITF Women's Circuit tournaments were organized in 66 countries worldwide, enabling players to gain experience and earn the ranking points necessary to enter WTA events. The ITF Women's Circuit, which forms part of the ITF Pro Circuit, is the vital link between junior tennis and the women's tour. During 2011, the total amount of prize money available on the Circuit was over $11 million.

All players who compete in ITF Pro Circuit tournaments must register for annual IPIN Membership (an IPIN fee is payable), giving them access to the IPIN Online Service, which allows them to manage their playing schedule on the Circuit. For details of all entry requirements and other related Circuit information visit www.itftennis.com/womens.

The ITF actively promotes the importance of representing one's country whether at the Olympics or within the team competition format. The men's Davis Cup by BNP Paribas and women's Fed Cup by BNP Paribas are the largest annual international team competitions in sport and most prized in the ITF's event portfolio. Both have a rich history and have consistently attracted the best players from each passing generation.

Both team competitions continue to maintain their appeal. In 2012, over 120 nations have entered Davis Cup, while 90 nations have entered the 2012 Fed Cup. Further information is available at www.daviscup.com and www.fedcup.com.

The Olympic and Paralympic Tennis Events are also an important part of the ITF's responsibilities, with the 2012 Olympic Tennis Event taking place at Wimbledon, and 2012 Paralympic Tennis Event at Eton Manor in London. For further information visit www.itftennis.com/olympics.

At the grass roots level, the development of the game is a major priority. The ITF runs a comprehensive development programme with the aim of raising the level of tennis worldwide and increasing the number of countries competing in mainstream tennis. The development programme's remit is far-reaching and includes the education of coaches, equipment distribution, facility grants, a worldwide schools tennis initiative program, increasing competitive opportunities, and organizing junior touring teams and tournaments.

The ITF Development Programme is funded by the ITF, and the Grand Slam Development Fund, administered by the ITF, is funded by the Grand Slam tournaments. In the last 25 years over $75 million has been invested in tennis development worldwide. For further information visit www.itftennis.com/development.

One of the ITF's most important tasks is to safeguard the future of the game. This is achieved through governance of the rules of tennis, conducting research into the technical aspects of tennis and by keeping ahead of all new trends and issues. Regulation of the sport also includes keeping tennis free from drugs, and the ITF is responsible for the management, administration and enforcement of the Tennis Anti-Doping Programme at all WTA events.

2012 WTA Ranking System

The WTA rankings are based on a 52-week, cumulative system. A player's ranking is determined by her results at a maximum of 16 tournaments for singles and 11 for doubles.

The tournaments that count towards a player's ranking are those that yield the highest ranking points during the rolling 52-week period. They must include points from the Grand Slams, Premier Mandatory tournaments and the WTA Championships. For Top 20 players, their best two results at Premier 5 tournaments (Doha, Rome, Cincinnati, Montréal/Toronto and Tokyo) will also count.

In order to appear on the WTA rankings, players must earn ranking points in at least 3 tournaments, or a minimum of 10 singles ranking points or 10 doubles ranking points in one or more tournaments.

* When Chris Evert played her last WTA match at the 1989 US Open, she was world No. 4.

 Ranking reflects only four tournaments as a result of inability to play following April 30, 1993, stabbing in Hamburg, Germany.

 Monica Seles was co-ranked No. 1 for her first six tournaments when she returned to the Tour on Tuesday, August 15, 1995, in Toronto.

* Seles' special ranking status was revised in 1996, where she received a ranking average for the first time since her return to the WTA on May 27, 1996, after her sixth tournament in Madrid, Spain. Following Madrid and until she had played 14 tournaments, or, 18 months after her first tournament (the Canadian Open in August 1995), her average was calculated using a divisor of the actual number of tournaments she had played. Seles would be co-ranked with the player whose average is immediately below her average. After February 1997, or on completion of her 14th tournament following her 1995 return, (whichever came first) Seles would no longer receive special ranking status.

Grand Slam Champions

The Australian Open, Roland Garros, Wimbledon and US Open are the four Grand Slam tournaments. Winning the title at each major in the same year is known as the "Grand Slam". Three women have completed the singles Grand Slam in a calendar year: 1953 – Maureen Connolly; 1970 – Margaret Court; 1988 – Steffi Graf.

A further six women have won each Grand Slam singles title at least once in their careers (known as the career Grand Slam): Doris Hart, Shirley Fry, Billie Jean King, Chris Evert, Martina Navratilova and Serena Williams, with Navratilova (1983-84) and Williams (2002-03) holding all four titles at the same time.

Australia's Margaret Court holds the record for all-time Grand Slam singles titles (men or women) with 24 titles, ahead of Steffi Graf, who holds the Open Era record of 22.

In the Open Era, eight women have won three of the four Grand Slam titles: Lindsay Davenport, Evonne Goolagong Cawley, Justine Henin, Martina Hingis, Hana Mandlikova, Monica Seles, Maria Sharapova and Virginia Wade.
